

THE LOST JEANNE E.

LIEUTENANT DANENHOWER'S
STORY OF THE SHIP.

Running Account of the Cruise From Leaving
San Francisco Until the Sinking-Sighting Wrangell Land--The Proposed Plan to be Followed by the Board of Inquiry.

On October 17, 1961, the Jannette board of inquiry met to discuss the case. The board was informed that the original musters rolls in the cases which were carried by the party through their desperate wanderings in Siberia were not to be found. The board was informed that the original musters rolls in the cases which were carried by the party through their desperate wanderings in Siberia were not to be found. The board was informed that the original musters rolls in the cases which were carried by the party through their desperate wanderings in Siberia were not to be found.

Lieutenant Danenbrow was asked to give the names, rank and grades of the ship's company, which he did, referring to the ship's log to refresh his memory. He stated that the company consisted of Lieutenant Francis numbered 32; that the Chinaman, Ah Shoo, was discharged at St. Michael, Alaska, and provided with passes back to San Francisco; Alexey and another Indian were employed by the company, and leaving San Francisco on the 13th, that the company numbered 33 was told, when the Jeannette entered the Arctic ocean.

Witness was then asked to give a running account of the cruise from the date of departure on the 13th of July, 1879, until she sank on the 13th, 1881, and began his narrative, using the ship's log for dates and to refresh his memory. Incidents of the voyage were briefly touched upon, and at 2:30 p. m., when the time of the day had been reached, Lieutenant Danenbrow had reached that point in his narrative when at 11 p. m., August 30, 1879, the Jeannette entered the Arctic ocean and under her course for the southeast cape of Greenland.

He then stated that the order of the day for the next day, to-morrow morning. The problem of order of inquiry into the loss of the Jeannette is as follows:

1. The condition of the vessel on her departure from San Francisco.

2. Her engagement up to the time of her destruction.

3. Her loss.

4. Provisions made and plans adopted for the several boats' crews upon their leaving the wreck.

5. Efforts made by various officers to ensure the safety of the parties under their charge and for the relief of other parties.

6. General conduct and merits of each of the officers and men of the expedition.

7. The examination of Lt. Danenhower the afternoon he was questioned relative to the general management of the Jeanette, and the narrative he sketched the progress of the ship from day to day up to the close of the year 1897.

ARLINGTON. The beautiful Domain of the Custis Family and the House of George Lee.

WASHINGTON, October 17.—Looking around the city one stands upon the western step of the capitol the eye rests upon many places of the scene presented, which were made famous by the war. One of the first objects to attract attention is the beautiful house of Arlington, with its lofty pillars and broad portico standing well out upon the brow of the Virginia heights, the deeply shaded grove in the background, brightening the effect of the sky, and the reflection of the water in the Potomac. The building is patterned after a temple in the ancient city of Pæstum. It is of brick, colored. From 1802 it was the residence of George Washington Parke Custis (he has been known to abbreviate it), the adopted son of General Washington, and in later years of General Robert E. Lee till 1861. Long years after the estate of Arlington existed, a domain of the Custis family, the purchase of which

Mr. Park Cussis, son of General Washington Cussis, and named after Lord Arlington Cussis, is claiming the rather questionable bonafide connection with his lordship. This was, however, made during the reign of George II. Sir William Berkeley, governor of Virginia in October, 1699, granted to one John Bowen six thousand acres of land. John Bowen Cussis built the present manor house and lived in it for several years, being afterwards killed by his son, George Washington Cussis, whose proud boast was that he was a "gentleman of the first family in the nation." Mr. H. M. H. "Pocahontas" and the "Pocahontas" were the names of the first two vessels.

er two or three hundred feet above the river. In its halcyon days Arlington house was as popular a resort as was Mount Vernon during the life of Washington. The last Mr. Curtis was renowned for his hospitality. The place is now open fields from the river shore to the mansion were twenty-five years ago covered with noble old forest trees and at the water's edge was a beautiful grove and a spring of fine water. So fond was Mr. Curtis of the place that he sold it to the Government company, and particularly of young people, that about 1848, or a year or two later, he erected there a spacious pavilion where parties

He seldom took to trip the light fantastic toe, etc. It was seldom that a picnic party was at the mansions that Mr. Curtis was not there also, particularly at the close of the day, and because of a violinist he sometimes gave the young people a sample of old-time dancing music.

The wife of Mr. Curtis died April 23d, 1853, and was buried in a sequestered and delightful grove near the mansion. Mr. Curtis died October 10th, 1857, and his remains were deposited by her side, a vast concourse of every

He went over to the rebellion against the national government and became its military captain, the estate was abandoned. no effort is being made to arrest him. Great curiosity is shown to know how the prisoners came to have pistols in their possession. A thorough examination of the matter is to be made by the district attorney and it may be possible that it can be shown positively where the blame rests.

Progress of the Subscriptions at Home and Abroad—The list up to the present date.

The following letter explains itself and is an honor to the writer:

NEW YORK CITY, October 10, 1882.—R. D. Spalding, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Doctor: I have been absent several weeks but have kept myself posted as to the work of the Hill monument association. One of the greatest pleasures of my life is to contribute to this fund. I know him as only his intimate friends and neighbors knew him, long and well at LAGRANGE, our old home, Georgia honors herself in honoring her illustrious son. Enclosed find $50. Your friend, Broadstreet Budget.

There were 125 failures in the United States reported to Broadstreet's during the past week, an increase of 4 over the preceding week, and 8 more than the corresponding week last year. The middle states had 30, an increase of 3; eastern states 24, an increase of 3; southern states 18, an increase of 2; western states 35, a decrease of 2; California and the territories 15, a decrease of 2; Canada 16, an increase of 3. Among the failures of interest were the National color printing company, of Boston; Calver Brothers & Co., wholesale paper, Syracuse; Degener & Co., importers and commission, San Francisco; M. C. Dewey, banker and grain, Plano, Ill. In the principal trades they were as follows: Grocers 23, general trades 13, manufacturers 12, liquors 11, hotels and restaurants 6, hardware 6, drugs 5, shoes 4, clothing 3, produce 3, crockery 3, bankers and brokers 3, tobacco and cigars 2, dry goods 2, grain 2, butchers 2, commission 2, jewelry 1, hats 1, fancy goods 1, millinery 1.

In the south only two states are represented. Acworth—Joshua Jackson, general store, has been seized by the sheriff.

Atlanta—Jordan & Cranston, wholesale grocers, have assigned. Liabilities $10,000; assets $7,500. They began in March, succeeding A. J. West & Co.

East Nashville—George T. Weakley, general store, has assigned.

Holders—E. W. Blankenship & Son, general store, have been attached.

Memphis—O. F. Armstrong & Co., grocers, have given a bill of sale conveying stock and accounts to O. S. Winston & Co.

POLICE AND STREET COMMISSIONS
The question shall they be abolished or not discussed by the people.

During the session of the city council Monday night last Councilman Ryan introduced a resolution giving notice of a bill to be introduced during the next session of legislature amending the city charter so as to destroy the board of police commissioners and the commissioners of streets and sewers. The resolution created quite a discussion and was finally defeated by deferring action until the next meeting of council.

With a view to ascertaining the public feeling upon the resolutions, a Constitution reporter circulated with the following result:

Mr. E. P. Chamberlain: "I think it would be a great misfortune to abolish either board. Especially would it be a misfortune to abolish the police commissioners. I think the police force much more efficient under the board than when directly under the city council."

Mr. M. Rich: "I think the council the proper body to elect the police force, because the councilmen are the direct representatives of the people."

Mr. Steve Ryan: "I want the boards to stand as they are. And I don't want the charter changed either. The police commissioners can alone check fraud and corruption among the police."

Mr. A. P. Woodward: "I have not thought upon the subject."

Mr. L. H. Clark: "The board of police commissioners should not be destroyed."

Mr. Frank E. Block: "I think the abolition of either board a bad step. I believe the police force is now more efficient than ever before and I hope that the board will continue in force."

Mr. A. C. Wylie: "We need both boards. The police system could not be better than it is at present. To abolish the police commission would open the way to fraud and corruption."

Mr. Mark Goldsmith: "I think both boards should be continued."

Mr. L. L. Abbott: "I am in favor of leaving the whole thing alone. The board of police commissioners are doing us good service."

Judge C. C. Hammon: "I am for both commissions remaining in full force. We are doing well enough and let's leave that alone."

W. J. Garrett: "I am opposed to abolishing either board, especially the police commissioners. That has been done the city a great deal of good. The other has not been tried so long, but let us give it a chance."

Mr. Aaron Haas: "I am not in favor of abolishing the police commission, and the other concern is too young to yet form an opinion."

Mr. H. A. Boynton: "I am absolutely opposed to the destruction of both boards. They should both have an existence."

Major J. A. Ketter: "I think the police commission a good body and should be retained."

Mr. W. M. Mickleberry: "I am in favor of both boards remaining in force."

Mr. Paul Jones: "I am opposed to the existence of both boards, and think the sooner they are strangled the better it will be for everybody."

Major Campbell Wallace: "I think the police commission should remain in force. I am opposed to the existence of the commissioners of streets and sewers."

Mr. Jacob Haas: "The police commission has done a great deal of good and should be

Mr. J. H. James: "I think we need both boards."

Captain John Keely: "I think the police force of Atlanta to-day an honor to the state.
It is a child of the board of police commissioners. That body should by all means be retained unless you want a lowering of the standard of the police force. I think the street commissioners are doing good work.
In my opinion there has been more work of a permanent character on the streets this year than ever before in the same length of time."

ADVENT OF THE COLOSSUS OF ROADS.
By Which is Meant the Six United Nations Railroad Shows of Sells Brothers.

Hereafter, Sells Brothers' name will be as good on a show-bill as Vanderbilt's is on a bank check.
Binghamton (N. Y.) Daily Republican.

Sells Brothers' great exhibitional venture, which is to unfold its six-angled treasure-houses at Atlanta, Thursday, October 26, has finally solved for its the much-discussed, so-called "problem of life." That problem, here and now, has resolved itself into the one great question, not of who is going to the big show, but of who can possibly be left at home on the great day of its appearance. Having thoroughly convinced the public that it is an honestly advertised exhibition and that its promises are as good as old Vanderbilt's, or any other man's, there is going to be many a homey muting of "impossible conditions," dimensions, when it comes to deciding who is not to be permitted to feast amazement with wonder-filled eyes, by gazing upon its huge pair of full-grown Hippopotami, strange and lovely Elephant, majestic Giraffe, rare Tiger, Dwarf Elephant, Arctic Amphibia, performing Colorado Cattle, tremendous Tig-gers, roaring Sea Lions, gigantic Felines, monster Two-horned White Rhinoceros, fifty tons per running animal, Charles Fish, the "Hero Horseman," Signorita Adelaide Cor-dona, the French family Davene, the Caron and Washington Troupe, the Twenty Comical Clowns, Lottie Aymar, Jeronimo Bell, and a thousand and one separate shows of equal interest, not to speak of the magnificent free street-parade, with its enormous caravan of Asiatic and African Elephants, its Sultan-like army of Camels, its Three Bands, Leviathan Locomotive Steam Orchestra, and living avalanche of dazzling sensations, which the average boy would walk ten miles on his hands to see. For the sake of peace, and in the name of universal enjoyment, spare no effort to so arrange it that all may take in the best show of their life-times, and one whose memory will be a continual pleasure.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.
At the expiration of Alderman Beermann's term of office, the south side of the city will have no immediate representative in the aldermanic board, as there are two of the ones holding over from the north side. Justice demands that Alderman Beermann's successor should be from the south side of Atlanta and they present the name of that old tried public spirited citizen, Major John H. Mecaslin, as a suitable man to fill the place and one that will be supported by the whole people of Atlanta.

RECEIVER'S SALE

—OF—

ASHEVILLE AND SPARTANBURG

RAILROAD STOCK.

WE WILL SELL IN FRONT OF THE GATE CITY NATIONAL BANK.

In the City of Atlanta, at 12 o'clock, M., on TUESDAY, THE 17TH OCTOBER INSTANT,

THE INTEREST OF

THE CITIZENS' BANK

of Georgia in the Asheville and Spartanburg Railroad. This interest is about one tenth, and is measured by a ratio that fifty-three one thousand dollar Bonds of the Spartanburg and Asheville Railroad Company bears to the whole number that united in the purchase of said S. & A. R. R. and the formation of the Asheville and Spartanburg Railroad Co. The number that united in the purchase is known not to exceed 570, and probably does not exceed 550. All the purchase money has been paid, the new company has no debt whatever, is making money, and has money in the treasury. No stock has yet been issued, but the capital stock is $1,000,000, and the company is the owner of a property which has cost over $500,000, and which, when a link of about twenty miles between Hendersonville and Asheville is completed will be immensely valuable. An examination of the map will convince any thoughtful person that the interest we offer for sale is now worth at least $50,000, and will be worth double that within the next five years, but it must be sold for what it will bring. Major James Anderson, of Spartanburg, the superintendent of the railroad, will give any information desired.
